CHILDHOOD CANCER

Cancer is the leading cause of death by disease in children. Yet the federal government allocates less than 4% of its research funding to solving cancers that affect children.

CURE is dedicated to conquering childhood cancer through funding targeted research while supporting patients and their families.

Over the past decade, CURE has directed more than $43 million into the best, most promising research aimed at helping children with cancer who need us now. We are a leader in advancing Precision Medicine, the most promising approach to treatment of children with cancer in decades.

For the 15th consecutive year, CURE has earned a four-star rating, the highest possible, from Charity Navigator, America's premier assessment organization for sound fiscal management, accountability, and transparency.

"Only 1% of the charities we evaluate have received at least 15 consecutive 4-star evaluations, indicating that CURE Childhood Cancer outperforms most other charities in America." - Michael Thatcher, CEO, Charity Navigator

Event HIGHLIGHTS

We all know the strength it takes to be a mom. But it is difficult for most to envision the added weight of a childhood cancer diagnosis. We've crafted something truly unique: Quiet Heroes, a special luncheon where moms of children with cancer are embraced by a caring community for a day of support. Quiet Heroes is for these strong and courageous moms –but it's also for any and all of us wanting an afternoon of inspiration.

This year's Quiet Heroes luncheon promises to be an afternoon of laughter and light, emceed by radio and television host Jenn Hobby (herself a Quiet Hero) and featuring a keynote message by comedian, speaker, and cancer dad, Kenn Kington.

Quiet Heroes isn't just a luncheon; it's an opportunity to be a part of something bigger. It's a chance to bring people together to celebrate strength and resilience and forge connections that remind us of the power that lies in community.

Sponsors of Quiet Heroes not only showcase their commitment to positively impacting the community, but because funds raised support life-saving research, they are an integral part of forging better futures for children with cancer.

"The Quiet Heroes event came at such a perfect time for me personally, when I was struggling to feel understood by friends and family. Being in a room with so many moms going through the same thing, and listening to the speakers stories strengthened my heart to get through the next few weeks and months. Thank you wholeheartedly."
